

The academic planning guide for the Master of Arts in Education (MAE) is listed below:

The M.A. program consists of nine common core courses, and electives to total 34 semester hours. All hours must be taken through North Park University to graduate.

Graduate students will be assigned a faculty advisor with whom they will initially plan their program and monitor it throughout their course work at the university. It is important that students regularly stay in contact with their advisor during program completion.
