

International Student Checklist
Fall SEVIS Registration: J-1 Students

F-1 Students: Every semester you are a student at North Park, the International Office must report to the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Service that you have met certain criteria associated with your non-immigrant visa status. It is your responsibility to submit proof of the following to the International Office by the third week of classes. The International Office is located on the first floor of Johnson Center; you may also scan and email all documents to emancilla@northpark.edu or ssong@northpark.edu.

Attach the following items to this form. Check the box to indicate that the item is attached.

Proof of Full-Time Enrollment

Please attach to this form a copy of your current semester schedule. If you are an undergraduate or ESL student your schedule must show at least 12 hours. If you are a graduate student your schedule must show at least 8 hours. We will not register you in SEVIS until we have proof that you have a valid, legal reason for being enrolled less than full time. Further, we will check student schedules throughout the semester; if you drop below full time at any point you will be out of status.

To print your schedule:

- Log on to WebAdvisor.
- On the student screen, select "My class schedule-Buy Books."
- Select the correct term from the drop down menu.
- Print your schedule.

Proof of Insurance

All J-1 visa holders, and their J-2 dependents, must be covered by valid health insurance while in the United States. You may purchase an insurance policy provided through North Park, or you may purchase insurance through a different company. If you purchase a non-NPU policy, you are required to provide details below and, by signing the second page of this document, you verify that the policy you've purchased complies with federal and North Park regulations.

I will purchase/have purchased health insurance through North Park.

I have purchased an independent health insurance policy:

Understanding of J-1 Rights and Responsibilities

We have provided the following information as a reminder of your rights and responsibilities as a J-1 student. Please read, and then sign at the bottom to indicate that you understand this information. If you do not understand this information, please talk to a staff member in the International Office.

The J-1 student visa and DS-2019 give you certain rights:

- You have the right to live in the US for the duration of your academic program.
- You have the right to study at North Park University. If you wish to transfer your J-1 student status to another J-1 granting school you must contact the International Office. You must formally withdraw from North Park University (see Student Services) before you are eligible for academic transfer.
- You have the right to travel within the U.S.; you have the right to travel outside the U.S. and return from another country as long as you have an unexpired J-1 visa in your passport and your DS-2019 is signed by an International Office staff member (or your program sponsor) before you leave the U.S.
- You have the right to work on campus up to 20 hours per week only if you have received prior approval from the International Office or your Program Sponsor.

The J-1 student visa and DS-2019 require certain responsibilities:

- You must have a valid passport at all times.
- You must take a full load of studies (undergraduate—at least 12 hours; graduate—at least 8 hours) each semester.
- You must make satisfactory progress in your studies.
- You must pay all your bills to North Park and not get into debt. International students must have their student account balance paid in full by the first day of class each semester.
- You must get written permission from the International Office or your program sponsor before beginning any on-campus work. On campus work may not exceed 20 hours per week during the academic year and 40 hours per week during official school breaks.
- You must get written permission from the International Office or your program sponsor before applying for any period of Academic Training.
- If you lose any documents (passport, visa, DS-2019 form) or the forms expire, it is your responsibility to maintain J-1 status by requesting help from the International Office to get new forms.
- You must notify the International Office or your program sponsor as soon as any personal information changes, including changes in name, local address, home country address, academic schedule, or funding.
- You must speak with an International Office staff person before the end date on your DS-2019 if you need additional time to complete your academic program.
- You must take action to transfer to a new school, leave the United States, begin a new program at North Park, or otherwise change your visa status within 30 days of the program end date listed on your DS-2019.
- You must discuss any questions about maintaining J-1 status with an International Office staff member or your program sponsor (not with other students, teachers, staff, or a website). The International Office does not take responsibility for students who are out of status because they received wrong advice.
- You and your J-2 dependents are required to be enrolled in health insurance for the entire duration of your program that meets the following requirements:
 - Policy must provide a minimum of $250,000 coverage per illness or injury.
 - Policy must include mental health care, outpatient care, maternity benefits, and hospital stay.
 - Policy must include medical evacuation and repatriation coverage.
 - Insurance company must have an English-speaking contact for use by local doctors' offices or hospitals.Failure to comply with these guidelines is considered a substantive violation of J visa status and those who are found to be out of compliance will have their SEVIS records terminated without the possibility of reinstatement, pursuant to federal regulation 62.45(f).

As a J-1 student at North Park University, you are also required to check your North Park email address at least once per week.
