Dominique Gilliard is a Covenant minster who specializes in ethics, justice, reconciliation, and incarnational discipleship. He holds a M.A. in History from East Tennessee State University, in addition to a B.A. in both History and African American Studies from Georgia State University. His teaching and research interests have included, U.S. History, reconciliation, ethnic and gendered studies. Dominique currently serves as a lead facilitator for both the Evangelical Covenant Church's Journey To Mosaic Squared and North Park's Sankofa experiences. Prior to his time here at North Park, he served as the youth pastor at Commission Disciples Covenant Church in Atlanta for five years.