Course Description:

This course examines current theory and practice of compensation and benefit administration in the context of strategic human resource management best practices. The human resource perspective will be one of a fully functioning, strategic business partner in developing and implementing compensation and benefit strategies that support the bottom line.

Introductory Comments:

In today's climate, businesses need to engage in constant observation and continuous improvement of the company's policies, procedures and practices in order to mitigate legal risks. Businesses can't afford staying abreast of critical changes that keep you compliant with the law. When these changes do arise, employers need to view the changes as opportunities to enhance and align their strategic goals with their policies and practices throughout. One way to do this is to continuously monitor HR systems and practices to ensure they are up-to-date and have built in checks and balances, along with ensuring they remain current. It is important to keep records of audit findings, internal changes made, turnover, complaints filed, hotline issues, employee survey results, etc. in order to keep a pulse on problematic areas, growth or declining spots. This can help make decisions of what to address first, allocate resources to, and identify where preventative training is required in the future. Staying up to-date on pending and anticipated regulatory activity is vital to your organization. Being informed about your results can provide the ability to focus on areas for improvement, avoid legal liability, and can help a company internally align practices with their strategic goals. Incorporating a continuous process improvement culture in your organization will also ensure that your company achieves and retains their competitive advantage for today and in the future.

Essential IDEA Objectives:

[The complete list of IDEA objectives are shared here. You must select only 3 IDEA objectives from this list, as they will later be included in the IDEA course evaluation that students complete. I.e., decide which 3 objectives from this list are the "essential" objectives for your course and delete the rest.]

1. Gaining factual knowledge (terminology, classifications, methods, trends).
2. Learning fundamental principles, generalizations, or theories.
3. Developing specific skills, competencies, and points of view needed by professionals in the field most closely related to this course.

Specific Course Objectives:

As part of a practitioner world model, the building blocks of a compensation strategy (job analysis, job descriptions, job evaluation, pay rates, wage structures, financial incentives, benefits management and services) will be presented and each student will be given an opportunity to develop a working understanding of compensation strategy. Benefits administration will be specifically addressed through the lens of the Patient Protection Care Act of 2010 and its impact to administrators today and tomorrow. Extensive information about the Act will be researched and discussed in this course.

Course Methodology:

This course is taught from a practitioner model. Each student will be asked, on a weekly basis, to actively engage in applying the learning materials to case study or real life situations/examples. Students will be exposed to current trends in compensation and benefit administration and will be required to demonstrate a thorough, hands-on, working knowledge of how those learning materials are being applied in the field of human resource strategic management in U.S. companies and nonprofit organizations.

Because this course is being taught in an intensive (7-weeks) and online format, the learning process will be heavily dependent upon the student's willingness to become involved in the process of active learning. It is very important for students to keep up with the reading assignments and online discussion forums. Indeed, it is not possible to successfully complete this course without a good understanding of the assigned readings and active participation in the discussion board forums.

Computer Requirements:

In order to effectively participate in and successfully complete this course, each participant will need to have access to a computer and a high-speed internet connection. Please visit <http://www.northpark.edu/Campus-Life-and-Services/Information-Technology/Network/Minimum-Requirements> for information on computer requirements. The two specific programs utilized in SBNM 5090 is Word, Excel and Powerpoint.

Assignment Grading Policies:

I will only accept late work for the Blackboard discussion forums, but know that your grade will be reduced per the posted grading rubric.

As a matter of professional integrity, I do not accept late submissions of any other assignments. Assignments will be considered late if they are submitted past the date and time noted (all due dates/times are based on Central Time (CST)). This policy will be strictly enforced.

I encourage you to complete assignments ahead of the due date so that sudden and/or unforeseen circumstances do not preclude you from completing and/or submitting assignments on time. If a personal situation arises that prevents you from completing work on time, please contact me via email or phone prior to your assignment due date, especially if you know in advance. I will consider such personal situations on a case-by-case basis.

Student Responsibilities:

1. Students are expected to log in a minimum of 3-4 times per week (at any time during the week) and are expected to fully engage in the discussion board forums and related activities. Students cannot successfully complete this course without completing the weekly readings, discussion board forums, and assignments by their designated due dates.
2. Students are expected to use good "netiquette" (see A Guide to Netiquette in the Course Information folder on Blackboard). While I am available for a telephone appointment, I strongly recommend that all issues, questions, and problems be dealt with online (unless they are of a personal matter) as a matter of good netiquette.
3. Students are expected to spend approximately 10-12 hours per week on course responsibilities (e.g. reading, assignment completion, discussion board forums). Students are expected to read all peer and instructor posts in a timely fashion (e.g. during the assigned week).
4. Students are expected to adhere to the course schedule and to post to the discussion board forums accordingly. The most predictable problem in an online course occurs when students are late in posting their initial and secondary forum responses and/or when submitting assignments. This is often the result of illness, business trips, overload, and/or computer glitches. Be aware that the learning of your peers will be disrupted by your lateness!
5. Students are expected to read the syllabus in its entirety and are responsible for its content.

Instructor Responsibilities:

1. The course facilitator will design the course and learning modules in such a way that students have every opportunity to achieve the learning objectives.
2. While the course facilitator will not lead the online discussion, they will provide reactions to student responses and discussions as appropriate in order to clarify important ideas and concepts and/or to re-direct the dialogue.
3. The course instructor will provide updated information on relevant resources for the various topics of interest.
4. The course facilitator will read and critically assess students' written assignments and provide feedback within an appropriate timeframe (approximately one week).
5. The course facilitator will respond to all student e-mails within 24-48 hours of receipt.
6. The course facilitator will respond to all student phone calls within 24-48 hours.
7. The course facilitator will evaluate student progress in the class and provide a final evaluation for each student.

ASSIGNMENT SPECIFICATIONS

Overview:

The weekly discussion board forums are a vital component of an online course. Discussion board forums have been created to stimulate discussion on the assigned reading and to provide a forum for interacting with your peers and the course instructor. Your posts should demonstrate a complex understanding of the course concepts by integrating perspectives gained from the assigned reading and by making appropriate connections, synthesizing material, and analyzing varying perspectives.

Additionally, please ensure to check the Announcements section of the course room on a weekly basis. I am known to occasionally upload additional articles or recent legislative changes and/or other informative HR documents during the course. This area will also provide any announcements for upcoming holidays or school closings too.

WEEKLY ONLINE DISCUSSION FORUM

Discussion Forum Expectations:

Initial Substantive Posts are due weekly by midnight CST on Wednesday evening. For each of the discussion forums, you are expected to post one meaningful and substantive initial post of approximately 250-300 words in response to the forum prompt (for each forum discussion). Please keep this word range in mind; be succinct yet thorough!

Your timely initial substantive posts should: be responsive to the question(s) posed; incorporate ideas from the reading and/or other applicable sources; demonstrate a complex and comprehensive understanding of the week's topic(s). The initial substantive posts should be crafted carefully to succinctly express your thoughts. Please do not cite long passages from the reading and/or other sources. If you want to interact with a specific section of the reading, direct our attention to the passage by an author and page number reference (e.g. Berger, 55). Please write and submit your initial substantive posts before reading other peer posts to help ensure originality of thought.

Secondary Posts are due weekly by midnight CST on Saturday evening. After Wednesday evening of each week, you are expected to read all initial substantive posts of your peers. You are then expected to interact with at least two peer posts by posting a thoughtful response (for each forum discussion), comment, and/or question in response to the initial post made by another student. Simply stating "I agree/disagree" or "good perspectives" is not considered a thoughtful response. Your responses to peer posts must further the conversation, challenge peer assumptions, and/or in some manner contribute to the discussion by adding new or related information in a meaningful fashion. You are welcome to respond to more than two peer posts if you choose, but please ensure that all secondary responses are thoughtful and of high quality as described above.

In addition, it is expected that you will respond to all peer questions about your initial and/or secondary posts in a timely fashion so as to maintain a robust and meaningful dialogue. Responses to peer questions about your posts are not counted as secondary posts. Secondary posts are those that you initiate in response to the initial post made by other students.

POLICY STATEMENTS

Academic Honesty

In keeping with our Christian heritage and commitment, North Park University and the School of Business and Nonprofit Management are committed to the highest possible ethical and moral standards. Just as we will constantly strive to live up to these high standards, we expect our students to do the same. To that end, cheating of any sort will not be tolerated. Students who are discovered cheating are subject to discipline up to and including failure of a course and expulsion.

Our definition of cheating includes but is not limited to:

1. Plagiarism – the use of another's work as one's own without giving credit to the individual. This includes using materials from the internet.
2. Copying another's answers on an examination.
3. Deliberately allowing another to copy one's answers or work.
4. Signing an attendance roster for another who is not present.

In the special instance of group work, the instructor will make clear his/her expectations with respect to individual vs. collaborative work. A violation of these expectations may be considered cheating as well. For further information on this subject you may refer to the Academic Dishonesty section of the University's online catalog.

In conclusion, it is our mission to prepare each student for a life of significance and service. Honesty and ethical behavior are the foundation upon which such lives are built. We therefore expect the highest standards of each student in this regard.

Attendance Policy for Graduate Courses

The graduate courses in the SBNM are all 7 weeks in length. Missing one class session is allowed without penalty as long as all readings and assignments are made up by the student within a reasonable time period (the following week). Failing to log into an online course site for an entire week is allowed, but a penalty may be applied at the instructor's discretion. Missing a second class session is allowed only in unusual circumstances by prior arrangement with the instructor. Since this represents almost 30% of the engagement time for the course, the student runs the risk of receiving a lower overall grade for the class. Faculty are encouraged to drop the course grade by a full letter grade in this situation. A student who misses three classes (or the equivalent for an online class) will automatically fail the course, unless the student drops the course before the seventh week of class. Students who drop a course will be held responsible for tuition, based upon the current North Park University policy outlined in the University Catalog (found on the NPU website).

Attendance Policy for Undergraduate Courses

Attendance and participation are vital. Thus, students are expected to attend every class session, and to arrive on time – tardiness is undesirable and disruptive to your fellow classmates. This course has a strict requirement of documented, advance notification. If you are unable to attend any class session, you are to inform me (preferably by email) prior to that session. You need to provide a reason for your absence. Failure to provide advance notification will result in an unexcused absence. Be advised that poor attendance can affect your grade adversely

APA Requirement

The School of Business and Nonprofit Management (SBNM) has adopted the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) as the standard and required format for all written assignments in SBNM courses.

Our goal in adopting the APA Manual is to enhance student learning by:

- 1) Improving student's writing skills.
- 2) Standardizing the required format of all written assignments in all SBNM courses.
- 3) Emphasizing the importance of paper mechanics, grammatical constructs, and the necessity of proper citations.
- 4) Holding students accountable for high quality written work.

If you are unfamiliar with the requirements of the APA Manual, we recommend that you purchase the reference manual and/or that you consult one or more of the suggested resources as listed on the Student Resources section of the SBNM website. It is your responsibility to learn and ensure that all written work is formatted according to the standards of the APA Manual.

Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities who believe that they may need accommodations in this class are encouraged to contact your program's office (Business: 773-244-6270). Please do so as soon as possible to better ensure that such accommodations are implemented in a timely manner.
