Introductory Remarks

Times are tough for nonprofits. With mounting competition for fundraising support, greater demand for services, increasing pressure to meet and document effective performance, nonprofits face an enormous challenge. While many nonprofits have learned how to present their special identity and “brand,” few use strategic marketing to its fullest potential to advance their mission and achieve financial stability. Indeed, many nonprofit professionals are just beginning to learn how marketing and communication tools and strategies can be deployed in the nonprofit context to help achieve greater success.

This class is designed to help nonprofit professionals begin to fill this gap by demystifying the marketing process and showing how it can be employed in a mission-oriented setting. The class covers the steps for becoming a customer-focused nonprofit: developing a market-oriented mindset and leadership structure; assessing the external environment and competition; understanding and responding to customer needs and wants; developing a unique, differentiated position and brand identity in customers’ minds; shaping programs and services to attract and retain customer segments; developing and delivering motivating and ethically-sensitive messages; and designing a cost-effective communications mix for reaching targeted audiences. The class will also explore the benefits and risks involved with approaching funders as customers to satisfy a “value exchange.” By the end of the class, students will understand how to develop a comprehensive strategic marketing plan and manage its implementation to realize the greatest possible return from marketing expenditures – and how to do so in a way that honors their organization’s mission and vision for social good.

Learning Objectives:

By the completion of this course, students will increase specific knowledge in the following areas:

1. The role of marketing in a mission-based organization
2. How organizational history, culture and philosophy affect marketing readiness
3. How to develop a strategic marketing plan for a nonprofit organization
4. Developing a differentiated position and brand identity in the nonprofit context
5. How to identify, evaluate and respond to environmental and competitive pressures affecting nonprofit performance
6. Discovering and responding to your customers' needs, wants, values and aspirations
7. The role of product, price, place and promotion in delivering customer value
8. How to develop and deliver powerful messages that generate a response
9. Elements of a realistic, cost-effective promotional mix
10. Ethical considerations in nonprofit marketing

Please focus on the following IDEA objectives as you participate in the course:

- Applying course material to improve thinking, problem solving, and decisions
- Developing skills, competencies, and points of view needed by nonprofit management professionals
- Working with others as a member of a team

Required Texts:

Two textbooks will be required for this course:

- Strategic Marketing for Nonprofit Organizations, Seventh Edition, Kotler and Andreasen, Prentice Hall, 2008, ISBN-10: 013175372X
- Mission-Based Marketing: Positioning Your Not-for-Profit in an Increasingly Competitive World, Peter C. Brinckerhoff, John Wiley & Sons; 3rd edition

Texts can be purchased through North Park University's bookstore (online or on campus) and should be obtained by students prior to the first class session. See "Order Your Books" on the Blackboard course site for more information about ordering online.

Required Articles /Cases

- Harvard Business School Case: The Cradle
- Schuerman, M., "Attention Campers, How Girls Inc. put the power of Lancôme to work in support of mission," Stanford Social Innovation Review, Summer, 2004.

These cases will be distributed via Moodle and each student will have a corresponding copyright fee of $25.00 posted to their account.

Teaching and Learning Methods

This course is being taught in an intensive format. Therefore, it is very important for students to keep up with readings, assignments and online discussions. Questions will be posted by the course facilitator on the course site on a weekly basis to stimulate the discussion. Responses need not be directed to the course facilitator but can and should be in response to the thoughts and ideas of other students as well.

Some assignments will be posted online for class member review and comments. The course facilitator expects that each student will provide constructive and timely feedback to other class members on assignments as required. While the course facilitator may also provide online feedback on assignments, grades for each course assignment will be given privately.

There will be no paper or assignment re-do. So, please adhere to the assignment instructions and rubrics very carefully. I follow the assignment instructions and rubrics to assign points. Students who deviate from the instructions and rubric will often lose points. Occasionally, students desire to shape an assignment to fit their individual or organizational needs, or interpretations. Please refrain from doing so, if it isn't consistent with the specifics of the assignment and rubric. Otherwise, students might lose points.

Course Schedule

Class "begins" on Monday. Your initial post to the discussion board should be completed by Wednesday at noon. This allows your peers to respond by Friday. Group cases are due by midnight Sunday. Business plan modules and other assignments are due by midnight Sunday. All deadlines assume central standard time.

Student Responsibilities

1. Students should take the Moodle orientation course, prior to the start of the course. Students should have a strong knowledge of the information covered in the orientation.
2. Attendance, presence, and full participation are required for this class. You cannot successfully complete this course without completing the weekly readings and assignment. Students are expected to submit assignments (postings, deliverables, etc) on time to Blackboard. This allows peers to have adequate time to respond to your postings. Late assignments (non discussion board) will be lowered one letter grade (or 10%) per day (24 hours). Assignments more than 48 hours late will not be accepted.
3. You are expected to post a substantive contribution to the discussion at least 3 times per week which means you will need to log in a minimum of 2 times per week (at any time during the week). Simply saying "hello" or "I agree" is not considered a substantive contribution. You must support your position or begin a new topic or add somehow to the discussion when logging on. In order to receive the maximum points available for each week's discussion forum, student should make a minimum of one original post and two responses to other students' posts during a week. Remember the golden rule for online posting: The quality of comments is more important than the quantity. Your post should never be longer than 200 words. (See rubric below)
4. All assignments will be posted online. Please include your last name and first name and assignment week on every homework assignment. (This does not include discussion posts.)

5. Some assignments will be posted online for others to see. You will be asked to comment and provide feedback to one another on your work.
6. Although I strongly suggest that all issues, questions and problems be dealt with online, you can feel free to email me anytime, or call me Mondays from 10:00 AM to 2:00 PM
7. I normally advise participants to plan on spending 10-12 hours total on course responsibilities (readings, assignments, online discussion)
8. Use good “Netiquette” (see A Guide to Netiquette in Course Information folder on Moodle). Be aware that there is zero tolerance for inappropriate netiquette.

Facilitator Responsibilities

1. The course facilitator will design the course and learning modules in such a way that students have every opportunity to achieve the learning objectives.
2. The course facilitator will provide reactions to student responses and discussion as appropriate in order to clarify important ideas and concepts.
3. The course facilitator will provide opportunities for group work that will include discussion as well as hands-on exercises.
4. The course facilitator will read and critically assess students’ assignments and provide feedback within 7 days of receipt.
5. The course facilitator will respond to all student e-mails within 48 hours of receipt.

Computer Requirements

In order to effectively participate in and successfully complete this course, each participant will need to have access to a computer and a high-speed internet connection. Please visit <http://www.northpark.edu/Campus-Life-and-Services/Information-Technology/Network/Minimum-Requirements> for information on computer requirements.

Technical Skills

All students are required to take the online orientation. Additionally, you need know how to use word, power point and excel.

ASSIGNMENTS

There are three types of assignments for this course. Each is designed to help you gain greater understanding and mastery of marketing in the context of the nonprofit organizations. These assignments include:

Type of Assignment	Learning Objective
1. Moodle Discussion Forum	Provides an opportunity to share experiences and insights about marketing-related issues raised by the texts and learn from fellow students.
2. Major Concept Assessment	Requires students to demonstrate an understanding of major concepts covered in the course through individual and group assignments in the form of papers, analyses, quizzes and tool development.
3. Application Projects	Require students to apply best marketing practices to a real-life situation -- by the end of the course developing a basic strategic marketing plan for an actual nonprofit organization.

At the completion of this course, you will receive a letter grade reflecting your performance in this course. Letter grades (from A – F) will be awarded according to the existing policies of the School of Business and Nonprofit Management. The final course grade will be computed according to the total number of points earned for all assignments as shown below.

1. Moodle Discussion Forum 70 maximum points

Discussion forums will be held during the following weeks: 1 (two discussions), 2, 3, 5 and 7. Per forum, students receive 4 points for an “original” post, and 2 points for each responsive post. Students may receive a maximum of 10 points for each forum.

POINT ALLOCATION

COURSE GRADING POLICIES:

Criteria for Grading Moodle Discussion Participation: Here is how I grade weekly discussion board postings: I look for them to be thorough and thoughtful, related to the course materials and readings as well as other students' comments. Just posting an "I agree/disagree with your comment" or an "I think the same" to someone else's thoughts is not considered to be an adequate response. In other words, a good posting integrates multiple views and shows value as a seed for reflection by including other participants' views. I expect at postings throughout the week. You should submit your first posting by Wednesday to allow other students time to make comments. Discussion boards are reviewed and graded by Midnight, Monday.

Criteria for grading written assignments and projects:

- A/A- Well-written with no errors (spelling, sentence fragments, unclear sentences, etc.). Excellent analysis and well-supported conclusions. Demonstrates complex understanding of topic and familiarity with supporting sources (readings, online resources and discussion). Fully and clearly responsive to question(s) asked.
- B/B- Moderately well-written with few errors. Good analysis and well-supported conclusions. Demonstrates correct understanding of topic and familiarity with most supporting sources (readings, online resources and discussion).
- C/C- Content may show either less than correct familiarity with the topic or bulk of supporting sources, is not fully responsive to the question(s) asked, or is poorly written (major mistakes made).
- D/D- Any combination below the levels described above.

Academic Honesty

In keeping with our Christian heritage and commitment, North Park University and the School of Business and Nonprofit Management are committed to the highest possible ethical and moral standards. Just as we will constantly strive to live up to these high standards, we expect our students to do the same. To that end, cheating of any sort will not be tolerated. Students who are discovered cheating are subject to discipline up to and including failure of a course and expulsion.

Our definition of cheating includes but is not limited to:

1. Plagiarism – the use of another’s work as one’s own without giving credit to the individual. This includes using materials from the internet.
2. Copying another’s answers on an examination.
3. Deliberately allowing another to copy one’s answers or work.
4. Signing an attendance roster for another who is not present.

In the special instance of group work, the instructor will make clear his/her expectations with respect to individual vs. collaborative work. A violation of these expectations may be considered cheating as well. For further information on this subject you may refer to the Academic Dishonesty section of the University’s online catalog.

In conclusion, it is our mission to prepare each student for a life of significance and service. Honesty and ethical behavior are the foundation upon which such lives are built. We therefore expect the highest standards of each student in this regard.

Support Services:

Please see the Course Information button in your course in Moodle for the Student Support document if you need assistance during your course.

Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities who believe that they may need accommodations in this class are encouraged to contact your program’s office (Business: 773-244-6270). Please do so as soon as possible to better ensure that such accommodations are implemented in a timely manner. For further information please review the following website: <http://www.northpark.edu/Campus-Life-and-Services/Disability-Resources>

APA Requirement

The School of Business and Nonprofit Management (SBNM) has adopted the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) as the standard and required format for all written assignments in SBNM courses.

Our goal in adopting the APA Manual is to enhance student learning by:

- 1) Improving student's writing skills.
- 2) Standardizing the required format of all written assignments in all SBNM courses.
- 3) Emphasizing the importance of paper mechanics, grammatical constructs, and the necessity of proper citations.
- 4) Holding students accountable for high quality written work.

If you are unfamiliar with the requirements of the APA Manual, we recommend that you purchase the reference manual and/or that you consult one or more of the suggested resources as listed on the Student Resources section of the SBNM website. It is your responsibility to learn and ensure that all written work is formatted according to the standards of the APA Manual.

Attendance Policy

The graduate courses in the SBNM are all 7 weeks in length. Missing one class session is allowed without penalty as long as all readings and assignments are made up by the student within a reasonable time period (the following week). Failing to log into an online course site for an entire week is allowed, but a penalty may be applied at the instructor's discretion. Missing a second class session is allowed only in unusual circumstances by prior arrangement with the instructor. Since this represents almost 30% of the engagement time for the course, the student runs the risk of receiving a lower overall grade for the class. Faculty are encouraged to drop the course grade by a full letter grade in this situation. A student who misses three classes (or the equivalent two weeks for an online class) will automatically fail the course, unless the student drops the course before the seventh week of class. Students who drop a course will be held responsible for tuition, based upon the current North Park University refund policy outlined in the University Catalog.
