Course Description:

The purpose of this course is to acquaint participants with the basic principles and practices of effective annual and major gift fundraising. By the completion of this course, students will have a comprehensive understanding of the process of raising gifts from individuals, the programs used to do so, how to steward donor relationships, and future trends that will impact fundraising.

Introductory Comments:

All nonprofit organizations require resources to successfully execute their mission. In a time of decreased external funding, increased expectations of accountability on the part of nonprofits, and an economic downturn that negatively affected individual donors and funding entities, nonprofit organizations must work harder to raise the funds needed. Securing financial support requires a clearly articulated case, a well-developed plan to communicate that case to identified prospects, and the ability to implement effective solicitation strategies.

This course will provide you with the tools to understand, analyze, and implement a annual and major gift fund development program. Theory will be discussed, but the course is designed to examine how theory is applied in real-world settings. In order to do this, you are required to have access to a nonprofit organization for which you can complete assignments throughout the course and the final project. If you do not have access to an organization, please contact Prof. Harney immediately

Essential IDEA Objectives:

1. Gaining factual knowledge (terminology, classifications, methods, trends).
2. Learning fundamental principles, generalizations, or theories.
3. Developing specific skills, competencies, and points of view needed by professionals in the field most closely related to this course.

Specific Course Objectives:*Week 1:

Students will become comfortable within the online environment and understand how to navigate Moodle.

Students will understand and be able to use basic fundraising terminology in their assignments and discussions.

Students will understand the importance of a mission and case statement and will draft or critique an existing mission and case statement for their organization.

Week 2:

Students will understand the key components of an annual fund program.

Students will be able to identify best practices and will critique their organization's annual fund program.

Week 3:

Demonstrate understanding of best practices by critiquing direct mail pieces and fundraising websites.

Explore how emerging technology is being used for fundraising by nonprofits.

Understand the role events play in fundraising at different types of organizations.

Week 4:

Demonstrate an understanding of the fundraising cycle and how prospects move through the cycle.

Master best practices for prospect research and will assess their organization's current research practices.

Understand ethical standards for development and review ways to engage volunteers in the fundraising process.

Week 5:

Demonstrate a thorough understanding of the solicitation process, including producing a written gift proposal.

Explore possible objections that can be raised during solicitation and understand how to effectively overcome them.

Week 6:

Understand the importance of stewardship and donor relations in a successful fundraising program.

Assess their organization's current practices in stewardship and make recommendations for improvement.

Week 7:

Explore how the annual fund and major gift programs should work together in a coordinated fashion.

Demonstrate the ability to create a comprehensive and integrated fundraising plan through completion of their final project.

Be informed about current trends that could impact the future of fundraising.

Course Methodology:

This course will be carried out in a variety of methods. These include online discussion, self-directed reading and learning-by doing with interaction with a nonprofit organization chosen by the student.

Computer Requirements:

In order to effectively participate in and successfully complete this course, each participant will need to have access to a computer and a high-speed internet connection. Please visit <http://www.northpark.edu/Campus-Life-and-Services/Information-Technology/Network/Minimum-Requirements> for information on computer requirements.

Technical Skills Required:

Ability to use a computer, internet access and general office programs such as Microsoft Word.

Assignment Grading Policies:

A grading rubric will be provided for each graded assignment throughout the course. This is a graduate level course, so standards are high. Grammar and spelling matter, and your assignments will be graded down if you are not careful about proofreading. Spellcheck is a wonderful tool, but it is not enough. Planning a little extra time for each assignment so that you can proofread your finished version carefully can make a difference in your grade.

Late assignments will be graded, but a 25% penalty will be assessed for each 24 hour period beyond the assigned due date. If you think you will miss a deadline, let me know as far in advance as possible so that we can attempt to work out an alternate arrangement. If I don't hear from you before an assignment is due, I will not consider alternate arrangements. The final project for the class cannot be accepted late.

Student Responsibilities:

As a student participant in this course, you are responsible for keeping up with assignments and due dates, items outlined in this syllabus and taking responsibility for your requirements. If you have a question at anytime or concerns, please email or call me as soon as possible. I expect to have communication from you if there is an issue or emergency.

Instructor Responsibilities:

Throughout this course, you can expect that I will provide attention to your questions and comments, and give care toward grading your assignments, considering the time you will be putting into them. Expect from me to be available via email and phone, spending time weekly giving my feedback on the discussion forum.

ASSIGNMENT SPECIFICATIONS

Overview:

*Assignments and the discussion forum are designed to give you opportunities for learning and growth. They are intended to be hands-on with the nonprofit of your choice while the forum will provide an opportunity for you to not only discuss what you have learned and read but provide opportunity to learn from others. Discussion forum posts are due by 11: 59pm CST on Thursday of each week, with response posts due by 11:59pm CST on Sunday. Assignments for the week are also due on Sunday by 11:59pm CST. All assignments must follow APA standards as mentioned in the College policies at the end of this document. There are resources available for understanding APA standards if you are not familiar. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact me as soon as possible.

Note about choosing and working with a nonprofit organization for this course:

Each student needs to find a nonprofit organization to use in the class from the first week. Students commonly use organizations they work for or volunteer for. It could also be a completely new organization. Here are a few suggestions as you settle on your study organization:

1. Try not to use a church, unless it is a mega-church with a professional fundraiser. Fundraising at small churches does not usually provide a complex enough setting for study.
2. Make sure the organization has at least one full-time fundraising (development office) staff so that there is something to study. If you choose an organization with no fundraising program at all, your assignments will be more difficult.
3. If you are approaching an organization where you have no established connections, consider asking for a few (three) interviews with the head of fundraising (Director of Development), rather than asking for a full study experience. You should be able to combine the questions from multiple assignments so that you need only connect with your contact person a few times during the 7 weeks.
4. If you are getting stuck, let me know right away and I'll post to see if others in the class might have suggestions.

If you find yourself having difficulty getting the information you need from your organization during the course, contact me right away. I'll help you figure out how to work around the problem.

WEEKLY ONLINE DISCUSSION FORUM

Discussion Forum Specifications:

Forums or discussion boards are an important part of this course. They serve as a vehicle through which we can interact with and learn from one another. A robust conversation will enhance the learning experience of this course. Each week there will be multiple forums or discussion questions posed. You should post an original reply to one of the threads. Also, you should read your classmates' posts and respond to at least two posts. At least one of your response post must be in a thread other than the one in which you originally posted. Original posts are due on Thursday of each week and response posts are due Sunday.

Criteria	10 points - Exceeds Standards	7 points - Meets Standards	3 points - Below Standards
Original Post - Content	Clearly references the reading and expands on ideas that were presented by the authors. Adds elements of critical thought and demonstrates a clear grasp of the material at hand.	Mentions ideas and theories that were present in the reading, but does not provide further discussion. Demonstrates a solid understanding of the material and introduces some new ideas or questions to advance the conversation.	Does not reference the literature. Makes basic points without moving the conversation forward. It is unclear if the material is understood.

ASSIGNMENT #1: Mission and Case for Support

Assignment Specifications:

Using what you have learned in this week's readings, post an entry on your course blog that addresses your organization's mission and case.

1. Submit the organization's mission statement and provide a one-paragraph analysis of its effectiveness, given your current knowledge of the organization. If the organization does not have a mission statement, draft one for them. (10 pts)

To consider: Does it address the necessary elements of a mission statement? What is the statement missing? Does it need all of the elements to be effective? Why is it inspiring?

2. Revise or draft a case for support, and provide an analysis (750 words) (20 pts)

Note: Clearly indicate if you are completing part a, or part b.

a. If the organization has a case for support, review and revise it:

- Submit the original case for support
- Review and critique the case for support; what is effective and what is not?
- Create a 2-page revision of the case for support and submit the revision

b. If the organization does not have a case for support:

- Write a case for support
- Assess your case for support; what is effective and why?

If you are new to Moodle, you can find your blog by clicking on your name in the Participant section on the left side of the main page.

Complete your post by May 19. Visit your classmates' blogs to learn from their approaches to mission and case.

ASSIGNMENT #2 Confidentiality Pact

Assignment Specifications:

Several of the assignments in this course involve students sharing information about their organizations' programs. The best learning occurs when students feel comfortable being fully candid about their organizations' strengths and opportunities for growth. Sometimes the information shared is sensitive. By signing onto this pact, each of us asserts that we will:

- 1) respect the confidentiality of all information shared in this course, both on this site and in conversation with other participants;
- 2) not divulge any information about organizations shared during this course with anyone outside of this course;
- 3) agree to be held to this pact as a component of North Park University's Honor Code;
- 4) agree that violating this pact is cheating, and will be subject to the consequences referenced in the Honor Code.

To signify your agreement, please add your name into the Confidentiality Pact wiki. You can access it by clicking on the Course Wiki link directly below this instruction section. Add your commitment by May 19.

While there are no points assigned to this, it is a required component for this course. Failure to sign the confidentiality pact will result in a failing grade.

ASSIGNMENT #3 Fundraising Analysis

Assignment Specifications:

Summarize the organization's annual and major gifts fundraising strategy for two years – the current and previous fiscal year. (Limit 6 pages, 40 pts) Due Sunday, 5/26 by midnight.

Research the organization's fundraising practices for the past two years, or for the current year and the immediate past year. Utilize three or more sources of information, including at least one interview with a staff or board member, and cite your sources.

- a. Identify total revenue and expenses for each year using a chart/excel sheet.
  - §Who donates to the organization? Identify fundraising revenue, using the following categories: dollars, and percentage of total; Amount raised from individuals/families, foundations, corporations, government, and any other categories important to this organization.
  - §What does the organization spend on fundraising? Identify fundraising expenses for each year and categorize using dollars and percentages.

b. Define this organization’s “annual fund.” Each organization will have a different definition of which gifts are relied upon annually for support. If the organization does not have a definition, propose your definition for a realistic annual fund. Additionally:

§How much revenue is raised from this organization’s annual fund?

§How many donors and/or gifts contribute to the annual fund for both years?

c. Describe the major gifts program, including whether or not the organization has a major gifts program. Additionally:

§What is the definition of a major gift for this organization? If the organization does not have a definition, propose your definition for a major gift.

§How much revenue is raised from major gifts? How many major donors contributed for both years?

d. Identify at least 5 solicitation techniques (e.g. direct mail, phone, in-person, events, etc) which have been used in these two years to raise annual OR major gifts. If less than five techniques are used, list at least five and describe why they are not being used. Be sure to indicate which techniques are used for annual fund gifts and which are used for major gifts. Answer the following questions about each of the 5 techniques used:

§How much was raised (revenue) by this solicitation method? How much was spent (expenses), if known?

§How many donors gave in response to the solicitation?

§Did the solicitation method provide a non-monetary benefit?

§In your opinion, was the solicitation effective?

ASSIGNMENT #4 Event Timeline

Assignment Specifications:

Events can be an important tool for nonprofits to attract new donors and raise funds. Successful events have clear objectives and require thorough planning and follow up. This week you will create a timeline for a signature event your organization holds or that you are proposing they hold (please indicate which in your paper).

Provide the following information as context for your timeline:

- Organization name and mission
- Event goal(s)
- Intended audience
- Measures of success
- How the event connects to overall fundraising goals

Make sure your timeline includes any follow-up that will occur after the event.

Minimum 2 pages, Limit 4 pages, due June 2.

Criteria	20 points - Exceeds Standards	16 points - Meets Standards	10 points - Below Standards
Content	Event context is provided. Timeline includes every key decision in an event with a specific date, including follow-up after the event. ### ASSIGNMENT #5 Website Analysis

Assignment Specifications:

An organization's website can be a powerful tool in attracting entry-level donors. Annual fund donors often make spur of the moment giving decisions, which may prompt them to go to the website looking for information on how to act on their desire to give. Lower-level donors are also more likely to make online gifts. The links below will take you to the annual fund sections of several organizations' websites. Due June 2.

Visit these sites, then go to the "Web Sites" Discussion Board and start an original post analyzing one of these sites. When you choose a site for your discussion board participation, be sure to follow relevant links so that you experience the full site.

ASSIGNMENT #6 Direct Mail Review

Assignment Specifications:

Direct mail is a foundational tool for most annual funds. Upload a direct mail piece to the discussion forum on Direct Mail Analysis and assess its effectiveness using the principles outlined in the reading. Highlight what you find compelling about the piece and what could be improved.

Due June 2. No minimum or maximum length, follow the rubric for appropriateness of post and quality for full points.

ASSIGNMENT #7 Moves/Solicitation Plan*Assignment Specifications:

Each group should work collaboratively to develop a moves plan to solicit John and Mary Smith for a major gift to the Chicago Museum of Natural History. Your group should write this plan as if you are major gift officers working for the museum. Click on the Prospect Profile link to read a profile of these fictional prospects and the fictional museum.

Each group has a dedicated wiki site. Use this site to post your moves plan. You may use whatever collaboration techniques you wish, as long as the final product is evident in the wiki environment and I can see evidence that all of you participated equitably. You will find a link to your wiki below. Don't forget your dedicated discussion board -- that may be a useful tool for your collaborative process.

As you develop a strategy for solicitation, you are welcome to create additional background information about the museum, the museum's programs, or the Smiths. Just be sure to communicate that information in the wiki environment so that I can keep it in mind as I grade your moves plan.

Finalize your plan on your wiki by June 9.

ASSIGNMENT #9 Major Gift Proposal

Assignment Specifications:

Draft a 2-page proposal for funding to an individual prospect (30 pts)

- Draft a personalized proposal to a prospective major gift donor. Select a prospect who is involved in your organization, preferably through an annual gift. (Change names for confidentiality.)
- Outline a specific case for support, identifying the project or mission the major gift would support, and the dollar amount you are requesting.
- Do not include a cover letter, but assume that one would accompany an actual proposal if it were being mailed.
- Incorporate the elements from your organization’s case for support that you think are relevant
- This proposal could be one you would use in a face-to-face solicitation.

Due June 16

ASSIGNMENT #10 Stewardship Analysis

Assignment Specifications:

This project is to assess the stewardship program of your organization. While stewardship is an important element of cultivation for future gifts, this analysis should focus on what happens after a gift is made, not what happens leading up to a gift.

Note: Clearly indicate if you are completing part a, or part b

a. If the organization has a stewardship plan, review/analyze it:

- Submit original plan
- Review and critique the stewardship plan, including how it ensures that donors are thanked appropriately, who is in charge of thanking and/or recognizing donors, and how it relates to the fundraising goals of the organization. Make at least 5 suggestions for improving the plan. Identify at least 5 strengths in the plan.

b. If the organization does not have a stewardship plan, create a 2-page stewardship plan. This could be a narrative plan, or it could be a stewardship matrix / grid.

- Explain why the elements you propose should be included
- Outline who is responsible for each element
- Articulate how it relates to the fundraising goals of the organization

You may prefer to submit your paper earlier so that you have feedback for your final paper sooner. If you do that, please email me to let me know when you have submitted, and I will grade it as soon as I can.

ASSIGNMENT #12 Final Project

Assignment Specifications:

Prepare a plan for your organization’s combined annual and major gift fundraising programs. Assess current performance and devise recommendations for improvement. Integrate as many of the concepts covered in the course material as you can.

You should approach your final paper as if you were preparing a plan to submit to the executive director and/or board of the organization you have been studying. If you are not an employee of the organization, prepare the paper as if you were an outside consultant advising the organization.

The paper should be presented as a practical plan the organization could follow either to create a new annual giving and major gifts program, or to improve and enhance the one it already has. It should include critiques and recommendations for improvement of all components that already exist, and proposals for additions of programs that do not exist.

The paper must fully address both the annual giving program and the major gifts program. If your organization has one program but not the other, it is fine to present the existing program in the “critique and recommend improvements” mode and the other in the “propose a new program” mode. If you leave out one of the programs because it doesn’t exist at all, your grade will suffer by 50%.

It is fine (and even recommended) to use the assignments that you have done earlier in the class in your final project. However, be sure to incorporate any feedback I have given you on the earlier assignments. If you merely copy and paste an earlier assignment into the final paper without making any updates, and the earlier assignment did not receive full points, you will lose points on the final paper as well.

The best papers are specific and thorough, and include all the components noted in the sample outline. I won’t critique your paper before your final submission – that wouldn’t be fair to the other students. But if you have specific questions about whether or how to address something in the paper, feel free to contact me and I will try to help you work through it.

Submit your paper by June 27. Late submissions will not be accepted.

Criteria	120 points - Exceeds Standards	96 points - Meets Standards	72 points - Below Standards
Assessment	Program assessment shows good analytical approach; analysis is based on principles	Program is described, but analysis is not applied in a thorough manner	No assessment is provided.

POLICY STATEMENTS

Academic Honesty

In keeping with our Christian heritage and commitment, North Park University and the School of Business and Nonprofit Management are committed to the highest possible ethical and moral standards. Just as we will constantly strive to live up to these high standards, we expect our students to do the same. To that end, cheating of any sort will not be tolerated. Students who are discovered cheating are subject to discipline up to and including failure of a course and expulsion.

Our definition of cheating includes but is not limited to:

1. Plagiarism – the use of another’s work as one’s own without giving credit to the individual. This includes using materials from the internet.
2. Copying another’s answers on an examination.
3. Deliberately allowing another to copy one’s answers or work.
4. Signing an attendance roster for another who is not present.

In the special instance of group work, the instructor will make clear his/her expectations with respect to individual vs. collaborative work. A violation of these expectations may be considered cheating as well. For further information on this subject you may refer to the Academic Dishonesty section of the University’s online catalog.

In conclusion, it is our mission to prepare each student for a life of significance and service. Honesty and ethical behavior are the foundation upon which such lives are built. We therefore expect the highest standards of each student in this regard.

Attendance Policy for Graduate Courses

The graduate courses in the SBNM are all 7 weeks in length. Missing one class session is allowed without penalty as long as all readings and assignments are made up by the student within a reasonable time period (the following week). Failing to log into an online course site for an entire week is allowed, but a penalty may be applied at the instructor's discretion. Missing a second class session is allowed only in unusual circumstances by prior arrangement with the instructor. Since this represents almost 30% of the engagement time for the course, the student runs the risk of receiving a lower overall grade for the class. Faculty are encouraged to drop the course grade by a full letter grade in this situation. A student who misses three classes (or the equivalent for an online class) will automatically fail the course, unless the student drops the course before the seventh week of class. Students who drop a course will be held responsible for tuition, based upon the current North Park University policy outlined in the University Catalog (found on the NPU website).

Attendance Policy for Undergraduate Courses

Attendance and participation are vital. Thus, students are expected to attend every class session, and to arrive on time – tardiness is undesirable and disruptive to your fellow classmates. This course has a strict requirement of documented, advance notification. If you are unable to attend any class session, you are to inform me (preferably by email) prior to that session. You need to provide a reason for your absence. Failure to provide advance notification will result in an unexcused absence. Be advised that poor attendance can affect your grade adversely

APA Requirement

The School of Business and Nonprofit Management (SBNM) has adopted the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) as the standard and required format for all written assignments in SBNM courses.

Our goal in adopting the APA Manual is to enhance student learning by:

- 1) Improving student's writing skills.
- 2) Standardizing the required format of all written assignments in all SBNM courses.
- 3) Emphasizing the importance of paper mechanics, grammatical constructs, and the necessity of proper citations.
- 4) Holding students accountable for high quality written work.

If you are unfamiliar with the requirements of the APA Manual, we recommend that you purchase the reference manual and/or that you consult one or more of the suggested resources as listed on the Student Resources section of the SBNM website. It is your responsibility to learn and ensure that all written work is formatted according to the standards of the APA Manual.

Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities who believe that they may need accommodations in this class are encouraged to contact your program's office (Business: 773-244-6270). Please do so as soon as possible to better ensure that such accommodations are implemented in a timely manner. For further information please review the following website: <http://www.northpark.edu/ada>
