Course Description and Objectives:

One of the most significant political and moral dilemmas of our time is that of how to deal with the increasing diversity of our society and the conflict this diversity creates. The globalization of business has increased the concern for diversity significantly. Business organizations reflect the societies in which they exist and thereby present managers with the need to address issues of diversity and conflict in order to optimize organizational effectiveness. This course will develop an appreciation for the diversity managers face, an understanding of what is required to manage that diversity and in particular, how to deal with the inevitable conflict arising out of diversity.

The following three objectives point to the most important course outcomes. Please focus on these objectives as you begin the course:

- Comprehend fundamental principles, generalizations, or theories.
- Apply course material to improve thinking, problem solving, and decisions.
- Develop specific skills, competencies, and points of view needed by professionals in the field most closely related to this course.

More specifically, the student who successfully completes the course will have:

1. Identified diversity mixtures and assessed the associated diversity tension.
2. Recognized the benefit of diversity tension and appreciated the positive role of conflict in a diverse work environment.
3. Selected the options appropriate for managing diversity tension.

4. Applied Roosevelt Thomas' framework "meaningful diversity" his/her real world of work.
5. Deconstructed personal biases and socialization in order to build a strategy for managing diversity.
6. Appreciated the need to stimulate positive forms of conflict in building successful organizations.
7. Analyzed conflict using Morton Deutsch's Typology of Conflict.
8. Created a plan for managing a specific conflict in a productive manner by applying Week's Eight Steps of Conflict Resolution.

All other required reading assignments and assessments, except for the Thomas Kilmann Conflict Mode, can be found on the Moodle course site in the weekly module during which the readings are assigned or recommended.

The Thomas Kilmann Conflict Mode will be distributed in class. A fee of $25 will be charged to your account to cover the cost of this assessment tool.

This course has no course prerequisites. All directions and support are provided for the assignments in this course.

However, it is expected that participants know how to perform basic tasks such as sending email with attachments, creating, editing and saving documents in a file structure, and performing web searches.

Computer Requirements:

In order to effectively participate in and successfully complete this course, each participant will need to have access to a computer and a high-speed internet connection. Please visit <http://www.northpark.edu/Campus-Life-and-Services/Information-Technology/Network/Minimum-Requirements> for information on computer requirements.

Paper 1: A strategy for managing diversity in my organization – 50 points

- I. Introduce the organization & describe the diversity mixtures that exist (slides on diversity mixtures and reading).
- II. Identify the tension associated with one or two critical diversity mixtures.
- III. Choose the options listed in the power point slides and your readings to determine the most effective way to deal with the diversity tension. Remember that your goal is not to maximize diversity – rather it is to maximize the achievement of organizational goals.
- IV. Establish what diversity goals are appropriate to the organization.
(According to D. Roosevelt Thomas, your organization consists of a jar full of jelly beans. If your company needs to add more diversity to its workforce, will the same policies, culture and systems work for the organization in the same way?)
- V. Establish a strategy. (Using the phases talk, think & walk, tell how you would implement the diversity in your organization.)
- VI. Summarize and Close

Paper 2: Analysis of a conflict – 50 points

Choose a conflict in which you were personally involved or had the opportunity to observe. Conduct an analysis and build a plan for resolution.

- I. Introduction explaining observed symptoms.
- II. Analysis of the conflict in accordance with the system of analysis discussed in slides and using Morton Deutsch's Conflict Typology. Identify types of conflict and ingredients of the conflict.
- III. Plan for Resolution using Dudley Weeks' Eight Steps.
- IV. Summary and Conclusion.

Course Policies:Attendance:

The graduate courses in the SBNM are all 7 weeks in length. Missing one class session is allowed with only a 2 point deduction in participation points as long as all readings and assignments are made up by the student within a reasonable time period (the following class session). Missing a second class session is allowed only in unusual circumstances by prior arrangement and will result in 4 additional points deducted from the participation points. Since this represents more than 25% of the class time for the course, the student runs the risk of receiving a lower overall grade for the class. A student who misses three classes will automatically fail the course, unless the student drops the course before the seventh week of class. Students who drop a course will be held responsible for tuition, based upon the current North Park University policy outlined in the University Catalog (found on the NPU website). Tardiness is a major annoyance. We will start the class on time and will expect you to be there.

Academic Honesty:

In keeping with our Christian heritage and commitment, North Park University and the School of Business and Nonprofit Management are committed to the highest possible ethical and moral standards. Just as we will constantly strive to live up to these high standards, we expect our students to do the same. To that end, cheating of any sort will not be tolerated. Students who are discovered cheating are subject to discipline up to and including failure of a course and expulsion.

Our definition of cheating includes but is not limited to:

1. Plagiarism – the use of another’s work as one’s own without giving credit to the individual. This includes using materials from the internet.
2. Copying another’s answers on an examination.
3. Deliberately allowing another to copy one’s answers or work.
4. Signing an attendance roster for another who is not present.

In the special instance of group work, the instructor will make clear his/her expectations with respect to individual vs. collaborative work. A violation of these expectations may be considered cheating as well. For further information on this subject you may refer to the Academic Dishonesty section of the University’s online catalog. In conclusion, it is our mission to prepare each student for a life of significance and service. Honesty and ethical behavior are the foundation upon which such lives are built. We therefore expect the highest standards of each student in this regard.

Use of APA Publication Manual:

The School of Business and Nonprofit Management (SBNM) has adopted the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) as the standard and required format for all written assignments in SBNM courses.

Our goal in adopting the APA Manual is to enhance student learning by:

- 1) Improving student’s writing skills.
- 2) Standardizing the required format of all written assignments in all SBNM courses.
- 3) Emphasizing the importance of paper mechanics, grammatical constructs, and the necessity of proper citations.
- 4) Holding students accountable for high quality written work.

If you are unfamiliar with the requirements of the APA Publication Manual, we recommend that you purchase the reference manual and/or that you consult one or more of the suggested resources as listed on the Student Resources section of the SBNM website. It is your responsibility to learn and ensure that all written work is formatted according to the standards of the APA Manual.

Purdue University’s writing lab has a plethora of online APA-specific resources that may be beneficial (<http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/01/>). In particular, we are strongly encouraging you to download and review a general orientation to APA basics entitled “APA PowerPoint Slide Presentation” that can be found via the below link. In addition, a sample paper formatted according to APA standards with explanatory comments can also be found via the below link.
