Humanities Co-Requirement

- one course from English
- one course from Philosophy
- one course from Art
- one course from Politics & Government or Sociology

Notes:

- Students who declare a History major after having completed the Core Curriculum Global Histories course may substitute that course for either HIST 2200 or HIST 2210.
- The history department shares with other departments in the Faculty of Humanities a common spirit and orientation towards the search for truth. We require history majors to enhance their major learning experiences with at least one course each from Philosophy, Art, and English. Students are encouraged to consult their advisor for suggestions about particular courses. Students with a double major or those obtaining a secondary teaching certificate are exempt from the Humanities co-requirements.
- Presentation of the senior seminar research at a History Department conference and presentation of major portfolio are required for graduation.
- For departmental honors in history, students must apply no later than the second semester of the third year. The student must earn 8 sh of HIST 4000 in addition to the credit required for a major in History. For general departmental honors requirements and HIST 4000 course description, see appropriate sections of the catalog.
