Course Description:

This core course addresses the learning outcome found in all four NPTS degree programs to, “engage diversity and exhibit growth towards intercultural competence for ministry reflective of God’s global redemptive work.” Through the lens of twelve of the world’s major religions, participants will reflect upon the inter-relationship of religions and cultures in order to understand one’s own position on pluralism. Emphasis is placed upon the practice Christian hospitality in the midst of pluralistic diversity drawing upon social sciences and missiological principles. Participants will personally observe and reflect upon non-Christian worship as part of their learning. 3 seminary credits.

Participant Learning Objectives for Course:

By the completion of this course, a participant should be able to:

1. Interpret the interrelationship between the religious and cultural context of major world religions, including one’s own.
2. Critique the historic and contemporary understandings of the nature and function of religion from both western and majority world perspectives.
3. Analyze and exegete etic perspectives of worldview values through firsthand observation of non-Christian cultural religious worship experiences.
4. Articulate the nature of religious plurality and theologize about the same in terms of a Christian response to other faith expressions.
5. Engage in practices of hospitality and dialog with adherents of other faiths.
6. Distinguish between the missio Dei and missions, articulate their necessary connections and apply both to a ministry and ecumenical interfaith setting.
7. Identify several countries of the world and their general religious affiliations.

Course Teaching and Learning Methods:

This course emphasizes experiential learning. In conjunction with classroom discussions and online postings, all participants will be expected to attend at least two of the five pre-arranged non-Christian religious worship events and report on them following the guidelines presented online. If none of the five options fit within the student's calendar, other options must be approved by the instructor. See course schedule for dates of visits planned this semester.

Participant Responsibilities:

1. Review course shell. Become familiar with assignments and rubrics for each. Review the assigned learning materials for each week as listed in the online course shell

2. Attend all class sessions and interact with the assigned weekly learning material and our guest speakers. Our schedule will include guest speakers that will be announced in class. Students are asked to bring questions for the guests and reflections on course learning materials. Attendance and weekly interactions will be graded. 10% of course grade
3. During the semester attend two services of the scheduled non-Christian religious communities new to you. Following the visit, write a 750 word reflection on the experience using the categories of the WATERCRESS guidelines and the rubric provided. These are to be posted in the appropriate online forums within two weeks after the visit or sooner if possible. During this semester five visits will be arranged by the instructor in the Chicagoland area and students may attend two or all if desired. If none of these options fit your schedule, please contact the instructor for other options. Only two visits are required but if participants chose to, they may report on up to four different visits with the two non-required visits taking the place of your two lowest scoring quizzes. Due dates are posted in the course schedule found online. Total 20% of grade
4. Using the rubric provided online, participants will write one reflection paper of 750-1000 words on each of the topics below, posting it online in the appropriate electronic forums by the assigned dates and times found in the course schedule.
 - #1 What does folk religion do for its adherents? What elements of folk religion can you identify in your own life and faith practices? 10% of grade
 - #2 Can Christians and Muslims live together in peace? On what basis? 10% of grade
 - #3 Would you describe yourself as pluralist, exclusivist or inclusivist? (Newbigin, chap.14). How will this affect your ministry? 10% of grade
5. Three quizzes (non-cumulative) on learning materials and geography maps. Dates of quizzes are listed in the online course schedule. 10% each. Total of 30% of grade
6. Personal Interfaith Hospitality Practice. Based on your interaction with the learning materials and experiences this semester, what steps will you take to practice Christian hospitality to people of other faiths or no faith? Post your writeup in the appropriate online forum by the deadline given in the course schedule using the rubric provided online. This assignment is to be included in your academic portfolio as one sample of meeting the academic learning outcome of your degree program. 10% of grade

Grading:

Weight of assignments will be as follows:

Class attendance and participation	10% of total grade
Report on worship visits	20% of total grade
Reflection papers	30% of total grade
Quizzes	30% of total grade
Personal Interfaith Hospitality Practice	10% of total grade

Course grade will be computed according to the grading policy found in the NPTS catalog.

Instructor's Responsibilities:

1. The instructor will design the course and learning modules in such a way that participants have every opportunity to achieve the learning objectives.
2. The instructor will provide responses to participant learning applications and questions as appropriate in order to clarify important ideas and concepts.

3. The instructor will provide updated information on relevant resources for the various topics of interest.
4. The instructor will read and critically assess participants' assignments and provide feedback in a timely manner.

Notes:

1. The instructor reserves the right to modify the course to best accommodate the learning needs of the class.
2. For any questions or concerns about Canvas please open a helpdesk ticket online.
3. Use proper online "netiquette" when posting online. Remember there are people on the other end of your communication. Use your best academic writing skills and avoid sarcasm, emoticons, abbreviations or writing in CAPS. Use inclusive language.
4. NPTS encourages all students to follow the Statement of Inclusive Language from the Board of Publication Policy of the Evangelical Covenant Church which states, "We are committed to being inclusive in language and imagery in an effort to eliminate prejudice, whether gender, racial, ethnic, national, religious, denominational, cultural, or physical. This way of proceeding in no manner seeks to deny personal identity; rather, it guards against any use of word or phrase that tends to exclude people." Consider how you can best incorporate inclusive language into all of your communication (written and oral) during the course particularly in your references to God and to humanity.
5. Harassment Policy and Title IX: Students who believe they have been harassed, discriminated against, or involved in sexual violence should contact the Dean of Students (773-244-6222) or Director of Human Resources (773-244-5601) for information about campus resources and support services, including confidential counseling services. As members of the North Park faculty, we are concerned about the well-being and development of our students, and are available to discuss any concerns. Faculty are legally obligated to share information with the University's Title IX coordinator in certain situations to help ensure that the student's safety and welfare is being addressed, consistent with the requirements of the law. These disclosures include but are not limited to reports of sexual assault, relational/domestic violence, and stalking. Please refer to North Park's Safe Community site (<http://www.northpark.edu/Campus-Life-and-Services/Safe-Community>) for contact information and further details.
6. Academic Accommodation: NPTS provides services for students with documented disabilities to ensure equal access to programs, services, facilities, and activities. Students with a disability who believe that they may need accommodations in this class are encouraged to contact Seminary Academic Services as soon as possible. If desired or necessary, discussion pertaining to documentation and accommodation can take place at another suitable location or by telephone. Further information about the American Disabilities Act Services is found at <https://www.northpark.edu/campus-life-and-services/student-success-and-wellness/disability-resources/>.
7. Academic Integrity: NPTS promotes a commitment to integrity in all areas of life. In the case of breaches of academic honesty such as plagiarism or cheating on examinations, the matter will be reported to the Dean of Faculty. Students should be advised that normally in cases of academic dishonesty or plagiarism the penalty can range from receiving a failing grade for the assignment to expulsion from the Seminary. For the full policy, please see the seminary academic catalog.
